Fisk arrived a few minutes afterward. John Moore Tiffin said he heard shots and went to the door of the private entrance and saw Fisk wounded, who said Stokes was too quick for him this time.

Over half the crew of the latter were drowned. The catastrophe is attributed to the inexperience of the officers. "You see the grocers can't carry much of a reserve and we can't turn out our collaterals at a sacrifice. If the Government calls in the bonds due in 1874, and the imports of bullion tend to ease the money market a little, butter must find its level with everything else. But, ter is very panicky just now, but I think the worst is over." She paid the money without further growling.—Detroit Free Press.

As he did so Callahan said "There is Rosenbaum, what has he to say about it?" then fired, killing him instantly. BRITISH COLUMBIA

Disastrous Fire

VICTORIA, Oct 20.—A fire broke out about 11 o'clock on Saturday night in the ground floor of the store occupied by Messrs. J. P. Davies & Co on Wharf street. A general alarm was sounded and the department were quickly at the scene of the conflagration. Owing, however, to the dense smoke which poured through the gratings of the building and the substantial manner in which the doors and other entrances were secured a slight delay took place before water was thrown upon the supposed locality of the flames. The establishment was heavily stocked with crockery and hardware, a sale having been arranged to take place to-day, and the damage to goods from water and smoke, rather than from fire, is heavy. The origin of the fire is unknown but it is supposed to have ignited in a large pile of moss excelsior and other material used for packing furniture. The building, which is the property of Mr Yates, is insured with the Royal Insurance Company for $4,000 and the stock is insured with the same company, with the Imperial and with the Northern. The loss on goods held by Messrs J. P. Davies & Co for consignees will be made good by the insurances on the firm.

JOSEPH ARCH.—The following history is given of how Joseph Arch, the agricultural labor reformer, first attracted attention in England:

"A couple of laborers knocked at Arch's cottage in Barford one evening. Mrs Arch answered the summons and saw two sturdy bread winners from a neighboring village. "We want thy man Joe. Is 'e at whoam?" "What's wantin', lads?" "Why, we want to talk to 'im about formin' a Union. Other trades 'ave a Union an' we dont see why we shouldn't 'ave one. It's time we did summat." "You form a Union! Why you aint got spirit enough, my lads, for no such thing." "Yes we 'ave if Joe will only lead us." And it came to pass that Joe consented to lead them and before the men left his cottage that night he had pledged them to address a gathering of laborers at Wellesborne the following week. The intelligence that Arch would have something important to say to the poor folk spread rapidly. It was the talk of the cottagers for miles around. "Whoy, had thee 'us 'eard as Joe Arch is goin' to preach to us?" "Noh! be he? Dang it, Joe knows a good bit and 'e's not stuck up wi' 'is larnin'. Aw'l go wi' thee an' 'ear im." Arch expected to talk to a small gathering in a little room in the village inn. To his astonishment he found upon reaching Wellesborne an out-door gathering of some fifteen hundred laborers, with a sprinkling of farmers and squires. A pig killing board was brought out. Joe mounted it and began his speech. An enemy sent down to the gas-works and the lamps on the street were extinguished. The laborers procured candles and the meeting continued. The address made by Arch on that occasion was magical in its effect. The Union which he advocated that night now numbers one hundred thousand men."

A COINCIDENCE EXPLAINED.—Speaking of the two stories with the same plot, though in other respects entirely unlike, recently published in the Atlantic Monthly and the Galaxy, the Worcester Evening Gazette said: "We should guess that both writers had hit on the same French feuilleton." This suggestion of a plagiarism, and in one of the cases translation, is a mistake hardly complimentary to the well known writers. The curious coincidence we understand came about thus: The authors are personal friends and some time since, one being a visitor of the other, hardly more than a passing reference was made in playful conversation to the anecdote of a young snob who sent a bouquet to an advertised lady performer in a circus, with whom he had become enamored, and his chagrin at the discovery that the "unexpressive she" was a he. A little badinage followed about the use that might be made of the incident as the amusing denouement to a fictitious sketch, then the matter dropped. Singularly enough, awhile afterwards, both the parties without concert and each entirely ignorant of the intention or action of the other, began the writing of their respective tales on exactly the same day. When the coincident articles appeared in print they were much astounded as the readers of the magazines were amused.—Boston Transcript.

HOW TO MANAGE AN UNMANAGEABLE HORSE.—Says the New York Commercial Advertiser: A beautiful and high spirited horse would never allow a shoe to be put on his feet or any person to handle his feet. In an attempt to shoe such a horse, recently, he resisted all efforts, kicked aside everything but an anvil and came near killing himself against that, and was finally brought back to his stable unshod. This defect was just on the eve of consigning him to the plow, where he might work barefoot, when an officer in our service, lately returned from Mexico, took a cord about the size of a common bed cord, put it in the mouth of the horse like a bit, and tied it tightly on the animal's head, passing his left ear under the string, not painfully tight, but tight enough to keep the ear down and the cord in place. This done he patted the horse gently on the side of the head and commanded him to follow, and instantly the horse obeyed perfectly subdued, and as gentle and obedient as a well trained dog, suffering his feet to be lifted with entire impunity, acting in all respects like an old stager. The gentleman who thus furnished this exceedingly simple means of subduing a very dangerous propensity intimated that it is practiced in South America and Mexico in the management of wild horses.

AN OLD LOUISIANA NEGRO ASTONISHED.—Not long ago a country store in close proximity to the city had one or two boxes of torpedoes that are about the size of a wren's egg, left over from its holiday stock. In rearranging the shelves one of the little boxes was opened and all its contents given away except one single torpedo, which, resembling a bird's egg candy, as the colored folks call them, was left on the counter. A wise looking old negro rode up to the store on a [illegible] looking horse about nine o'clock at night. He hitched his critter and came into the store to get a dram. While the clerk was pouring this out, [illegible] grizzly head thinking that where even the smallest thing [illegible] available [illegible] he could not be lost, slid his bony hand over that bird's egg candy and [illegible] it in. Then he made [illegible] while the clerk was putting a chaw of [illegible] in [illegible] mouth. He rolled his apparent [illegible] with his tongue back to his jaw teeth and then he [illegible] his [illegible] shut down it tight for the explosion of [illegible] and brick and [illegible] and sulphur [illegible] mingled that ensued was perfectly awful. The negro tore out to his [illegible], howling, and under the impression that he had [illegible] [illegible] is sorry [illegible].

THE [illegible].—[illegible] has the [illegible] of a prominent sport of other days. [illegible] the prize fighter is reported [illegible] fatally ill [illegible] of the lungs in [illegible] whether he had gone for his health. Those who believe that athletes are generally long lived will think of this [illegible]. A more splendid specimen of physical power never existed. [illegible] from his appearance [illegible] he [illegible] died at a hundred. It seemed almost impossible that disease could make inroads on that vigorous and sinewy frame. Still like some of those who train for the ring, the man was overtaxed. The muscles were sound, the flesh firm, the body rounded and unimpaired, but in these cases the breast or the lungs or some of the internal organs are sure to feel the strain, the wear and tear of such a life. In Heenan it was the lungs and the man is dying—a very Hercules, a magnificent wreck."

THE GEORGIA WINDFALL

THE GREAT FRENCH INHERITANCE—MR. BENJAMIN'S [illegible] FEE

It has already been briefly mentioned that two ladies of Madison, Georgia, had fallen heirs to an immense estate in France. The heiresses in question, Mrs Virginia M Campbell and her niece Mrs Minnie Chalmers, are entitled to $12,000,000 now waiting in France to be claimed by these fortunate ladies. Mrs Campbell is a widow about 70 years of age. Her niece Mrs Chambers is also a widow, aged about 35. The vast property which they have inherited belongs to the Rennauleau estate. Information in regard to it was received by them about three months since and by the advice of a gentleman in Madison, once a law partner of the Hon Judah P. Benjamin, they at once wrote to the latter at London, asking him what course to pursue in the matter.

Mr Benjamin, after thoroughly investigating the [illegible], wrote Mrs Campbell and Mrs Chambers that there was not a question of doubt in regard to their claim and advised them to come on to Europe at once. The property descends to these ladies through a Mrs Rennauleau, grandmother of Mrs Campbell, and great-grandmother of Mrs Chambers. Mrs Campbell's maiden name was Maguire, and that of her mother Mademoiselle Rennauleau. It appears that a party who once resided in the United States and for a number of years transacted business for several old refugee St Domingo families living in Augusta, in connection with their indemnities from the French government for their losses on that island, became aware, some time ago, that the large estate was waiting in France to be claimed. He therefore hurried post haste to that country, hunted up a remote branch of the Rennauleau family and succeeded in marrying one of the female members of it. He then presented proofs of the death of all the American and nearer branches of the family and claimed the estate for the distant branch into which he had married. Mr Benjamin in his letter to Mrs Campbell and Mrs Chambers remarks that this man will soon find out that the dead can be resurrected. By the terms of agreement between Mr Benjamin and the two ladies the former will take one-half of the whole amount of the estate and the other half, $6,000,000, will then fall to Mrs Campbell and Mrs Chambers, the share of each being the neat little sum of $3,000,000. Seven millions and a half are in the Bank of France, and $4,500,000 are in the hands of the Rothschilds, the celebrated bankers. Mrs Chalmers is now making arrangements for the voyage of herself and her aunt to Europe. They will be accompanied by a lawyer from Savannah and Antoine Picquet, of Augusta, who go for the purpose of identifying them. They will also carry papers signed by old citizens of Augusta, proving their identity.

MARSHAL BAZAINE'S TRIAL

PARIS, Oct 8.—In the Bazaine court-martial to-day the reading of Riviere's report was continued. Riviere argues to show that the means of communication between Metz and Paris were not ample, and that Bazaine's refusal to combine his forces with the other armies in the field was criminal. The Marshal is accused of pursuing a personal policy by which the enemy profited. There is evidence that he even refused to assist in the effort made to provision Metz. Bazaine's inaction is attributed to hesitation caused by news from Sedan and Paris, and partly to his secret negotiations with the enemy. That whatever government there was in France, he should have fought for it instead of listening to overtures from the enemy, receiving their agent Regnier, and plotting for the restoration of the Empire. He only thought of maintaining the army in a good condition to play the political part he designed. Had Bazaine done his duty by taking his army to the interior of France, leaving Metz to defend herself with her garrison, which could subsist on the resources of the surrounding country, Metz would have held out until the armistice, and Lorraine would never have been ceded.

Rivier continues: "A foreign war was not enough; our unhappy country was condemned to the horrors of civil war, and what did Marshal Bazaine do then? He united with the enemy to overthrow the Government of his country." The report condemns the Marshal for failing to destroy material of war left at Metz, while he was careful to destroy all correspondence which might compromise himself; for frequently receiving in person the visits of German officers, and generally for manifesting undue haste to capitulate to the enemy.

The reading of the report was not concluded at the adjournment of the Court. The hearing of the remainder, together with other documents touching Bazaine's management of the artillery and commissariat at Metz, will probably occupy the entire week and the examination of witnesses will not begin before Monday next.

The German Government at first refused to allow subpoenas for witnesses to be served in Alsace and Lorraine, but special negotiations have overcome the objections.

DIAMOND SMUGGLING.—The most noted diamond ever smuggled to New York was one seized from a German lapidary some years ago. This diamond has a history. A rich Boston lady had a family heir-loom, a diamond of unusual depth and brilliancy. She wore it only on state occasions. Wishing to get another like it for a pair of ear rings she commissioned a jewelry firm in Boston to make the match. The task of matching diamonds is very difficult, as only experts are aware. A lapidary in the employ of the Boston firm scoured Europe to find one of the exact cut, size and brilliancy of the one in the lady's possession. After a long search he found one in a virtuoso's collection in Vienna. At the time he purchased it there was a duty of sixty per cent on precious stones. This was an almost irresistible temptation for smugglers. The jeweler's agent hoped to bring the diamond through free, and accordingly had it set in a finger ring of antique fashion. He wore it on his hand across the Atlantic. On landing he was astonished to find that his plan was known. The Government had received the particulars of his purchase through its spies abroad. His diamond was seized despite his protestations that it was his personal property. The proof of his guilt was fully proved by the discovery of a quantity of uncut rubies and other gems sewed in his undershirt. The invoice which showed what the diamond had cost was also found on him. The stone was a beauty. It was as large as a marrowfat pea, and was one of the bluish tinted sort which are so rare. It fairly flashed fire. The gem was valued at $[illegible] gold. Mr B[illegible] the banker tried to buy it from the Government for $[illegible]. It was shown to Mr W[illegible], the diamond broker, who pronounced it the finest he had ever seen. The Boston firm fought to get it back, but the Court ordered it condemned. It was sold by auction for $[illegible] currency. The Government auctioneer was himself the purchaser. For the last two years the [illegible] have endeavored to get it back on the ground that the [illegible] was fraudulent.—[illegible]

MOSS COVERED TREES.—[illegible] trees [illegible] generally [illegible] that the soil [illegible] in the [illegible] that the soil [illegible] drainage and the tree requires stimulating. Give the ground under the trees a good top dressing of [illegible] and [illegible] drain the ground thoroughly, scrape off the moss from the trees with [illegible] and wash trunks and large branches with strong soapsuds. But we should perhaps observe that while mossy trees generally indicate too much moisture it is not always the case, for trees on sandy soils are often mossy, and soils are covered with the same species of moss. Moss therefore indicates poverty of soil or uncongenial conditions in some way. It may be a want of moisture as well as too much. Stimulate the growth at any rate as we have above suggested, whether the soil is dry or wet.

THE MODOCS HABEAS CORPUS

GEN. WHEATON'S ANSWER TO JUDGE PRIM'S WRIT

Below we give the answer made by Gen. Frank Wheaton to the writ of habeas corpus issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Jackson county by His Honor Judge Prim. The writ was served on Gen. Wheaton at Fort Klamath, and commanded him to deliver certain Modoc prisoners then in his custody to the civil authorities of Jackson county to be dealt with as the law directs:

HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT OF LAKES,
FORT KLAMATH, OREGON, Oct 11, 1873.

To I. Dunn, Clerk of the County Court of Jackson County, State of Oregon—SIR: For the information of His Honor P. P. Prim, Judge of the First Judicial District of the State of Oregon, I have the honor to submit this my respectful return to the writ of habeas corpus issued out of the said Court on the 4th day of October, 1873, requiring me to bring before His Honor, Judge Prim, at the Court room of the Circuit Court of said District, in the city of Jacksonville, county and State aforesaid, on the 15th day of October, at 10 o'clock A. M. of said day, certain named Modoc Indians.

The Modoc Indians referred to in the Writ are held in custody by me as prisoners of war, captured in battle by United States forces acting under the authority of the General Government and retained by me, a duly commissioned officer of the United States, on a legally reserved Military Reservation, the property of the United States and, as I believe, subject only to the order of the United States officials, whether civil or military.

Having set forth these facts in this my respectful return to the accompanying Writ, I submit to your Honor whether, under the circumstances, any State authority has jurisdiction over said Modoc Indians, or the United States officers in charge of them.

Whenever my orders and instructions and my conscientious understanding of my duty as an officer of the Government do not compel me to a different course, I will embrace any opportunity of showing my profound and sincere respect for civil authority, whether State or National, and I do not now presume to object to your orders and directions in the case at issue without showing you my ground and authority for so doing.

Among my files of orders I find "General Order No 16—War Department, Adjutant General's Office—of April 16, 1872, furnishing an opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States.

NO 52 DECEMBER TERM, 1871

The United States vs. Obijah Tarble—In error to the Supreme Court of the State of Wisconsin.

1st. The Government of the United States and of the States are distinct and independent of each other within their respective spheres of action, although existing and exercising their powers within the same territorial limits. Neither Government can intrude within the jurisdiction, or authorize any interference therein, by its judicial officers, within the action of the other. But whenever any conflict arises between the enactments of the two sovereignties, or the enforcement of their [illegible] authorities, those of the National Government have supremacy, until the validity of the different enactments and authorities can be determined by the tribunals of the United States.

2d. A State judge has no jurisdiction to issue a writ of habeas corpus, or to continue proceedings under the writ when issued, for the discharge of a person held under the authority and claim of the United States by an officer of that Government. If, upon the application for the writ, it appears that the party alleged to be illegally restrained of his liberty is held under the authority or claim and color of the authority of the United States, by an officer of that Government, the writ should be refused. If this fact does not thus appear, the State Judge has a right to inquire into the cause of imprisonment, and ascertain by what authority the person is held within the limits of the State; and it is the duty of the Marshal or other officers having the custody of the person given, by a proper return, information in this respect. But after he has fully apprised, by the return, that the party is held by an officer of the United States under the authority, or claim and color of the authority of the United States, he can proceed no further.

Mr Justice Field delivering the opinion of the Court.

Mr Chief Justice Taney, in delivering an opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States, enunciated the following:

"This right to inquire by process of habeas corpus, and the duty of the officer to make a return, grows necessarily out of the complex character of our Government, and the existence of two distinct and separate sovereignties within the same territorial space, each of them restricted in its powers and each within its sphere of action prescribed by the Constitution of the United States, independent of the other. But after the return is made and the State Judge or Court judicially apprised that the party is in custody of the authority of the United States they can proceed no further. They then know that the person is within the dominion and jurisdiction of Government, and that neither the writ of habeas corpus, nor any other process issued under State authority can pass over the line of division between the two sovereignties. He is then within the dominion and exclusive jurisdiction of the United States. If he has committed an offense against their laws their tribunal alone can punish him. If he is wrongfully imprisoned, their judicial tribunals can release him and afford him redress, and, although as we have said, it is the duty of the Marshal or other persons having him, to make known by a proper return the authority under which he detains him, it is at the same time imperatively his duty to obey the process of the United States, to hold the prisoner in custody under it, to refuse obedience to the mandate or process of any other Government, and consequently it is his duty not to take the prisoner, nor suffer him to be taken before a State Judge upon a habeas corpus issued under State authority. No State Judge or Court, after they are judicially informed that the party is imprisoned under the authority of the United States has any right to interfere with him or require him to be brought before them.

(Case reported in 21 Howard. United States plaintiff in error versus Shannon M. Booth.)

Brevet Capt. J Q Adams, U S A, 1st Lieut 1st Regt Cavalry, Acting Asst. Adjt. General District of the Lakes, the bearer, is directed to present this my respectful return to the accompanying Writ and to represent me in the matter.

Trusting that my course in the matter at issue will be satisfactory to his Honor the Judge of the First Judicial District of the State of Oregon,

I am very respectfully
Your obedient servant
FRANK WHEATON
Brevet Maj Gen U S A, Lieut.-Col 21st Infantry, Commanding Districts of the Lakes

The District Attorney moved a continuance of the case until the next term of the Circuit Court, which was granted by Judge Prim.

A CHIME RINGER'S PERFORMANCE.—A New York exchange of recent date says:

On Tuesday morning we were summoned to assist at an extemporized and somewhat novel performance on the ten bells which form the chimes of Grace Church by Mr Widdows, now of Washington, formerly well known in this city. A journal having hinted that no one south of Montreal save Ayliffe of Trinity could handle these monstrous instruments efficiently, Mr Widdows, who rings the chimes for the Metropolitan M. E. Church in Washington, was put on his mettle, ran up to this city and certainly by his unique and masterly performance, to which those who happened to be in Broadway at that hour will testify, established his claim to be called the "champion chimist." His selection was a varied one, comprising "Old Hundred," "God Save the Queen," "Home, Sweet Home," "Hail, let us Cherish," "Come per me Sereno" and "Viva Viva" from La Sonnambula, "Should Auld Acquaintance be Forgot," the "Marseillaise," and lastly the "Wedding March" from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream." The first part of the remarkable programme was listened to from the body of the church below, and allowing for the very deficient intonation of the bells the effect was charming. The visitors then mounted the long, steep iron ladder to the belfry, where the sight of Mr Widdows' performance was as wonderful as the hearing of it. Cold as the day was, Mr Widdows stripped to his undergarments, and was bathed in perspiration. He had to jump to and fro at the end of the long levers working the hammers of the bells, sometimes throwing his whole weight on them. His muscle and strength of endurance was immense. The "Marseillaise," first given piano, then forte, and winding up with the last four measures in thirds and fff, was a marvel of executive skill.

THE TERRITORIES.

The measles are severe at Walla Walla.

A. S. Gould has been appointed Clerk of the Supreme Court of Utah.

Snow fell to the depth of five inches in the Boise Basin on the 13th of October.

Brigham Young was re-elected President of the Latter Day Saints, without dissent, on the 8th inst.

A large train of immigrants, from Minnesota and Illinois, arrived in the Walla Walla valley last week.

An exchange says that the Wyoming women are fighting hard for two Representatives in the next Legislature.

A fire broke out in the livery stable of Hartwell & Co, Helena, M. T., on the 3d inst. and destroyed about $10,000 worth of property.

A man named Collins was sentenced to the Penitentiary for life last [illegible] at [illegible], Montana, for wantonly hanging a Chinaman.

Colorado now has nine daily, one semi-weekly and thirty-two weekly newspapers. Three dailies, the semi-weekly and nine weeklies are published in Denver.

John C. Heenan, the great ex-pugilist, and one of the ex-husbands of the late lamented Adah Isaacs Menken, is in Denver, looking after his health and what-not.

Montana's apples are not so large as Oregon's, but for fast horses she is ahead. At the Territorial Fair near Helena last week the horse Bret Harte trotted his mile in 2:28. A single dash of one mile was won in 1:47.

Recent geological surveys of the new Territories revealed the very important fact that the known coal deposits of the Rocky Mountain region extend over an area of upward of 230,000 square miles, in strata varying from five to thirty five feet in thickness.

It is pleasant, says the [illegible], to see the amount of gold dust that [illegible] over the counter of the Bank of Corinne. It looks like the good old days of yore. The boys are stringing in now from northern points, and for the next two months there will be a lively traffic in dust.

The Tacoma Tribune of the 17th inst. says: The bark [illegible] yesterday [illegible] on [illegible] the extraordinary amount of 111,000 feet of lumber. This has seldom been exceeded on Puget Sound. The ship [illegible] 130,000 feet in one day at Port [illegible], and no other vessel, we believe, has come up to that.

A delegation of chiefs of Mountain Crow Indians left [illegible] on the 10th inst. for Washington in charge of Major F. D. [illegible], on a visit to the President. It is said a finer body of Indians never visited the [illegible] before. They are fine looking, remarkably intelligent, and have always [illegible] true friends of the whites. Blackfoot and Iron Bull are the most prominent chiefs in this party.

The Grand Lodge of Masons of Montana convened in Helena on the 6th inst., every Lodge in Montana but one being represented. On the day following the annual election of officers transpired, with the following result: M. W. G. M., Sol. Star, Helena; R. W. D. G. M., John Potter, Gallatin; R. W. S. G. W., W. A. Clark, Deer Lodge; R. W. J. G. W., [illegible], Jefferson; R. W. G. T., Henry M. [illegible], Helena; R. W. G. S., Cornelius Hedges, Helena. Bozeman was [illegible] as the next place of meeting of the Grand Lodge.

The Walla Walla [illegible] of the 16th [illegible] says: Mr. Tant, of the Pine Grove neighborhood, has raised this season, oats which averaged six feet in hight. A large quantity of grain has not been threshed this year, on account of lack of a sufficient market. Several thousand bushels of wheat are offered by people as a bonus toward starting a mill. Immigration continues to come in, although not so rapidly as the country deserves. The Spokane country needs to be better known in order to induce people to go to it. There is no doubt but that it is an excellent country and a very desirable one for settlement. It will take time, of course, but the Spokane country will eventually be settled as it deserves.

Senator Kelly was in Jacksonville on election day, and started on his journey for Washington the next day.

The Jacksonville Sentinel states that one of the men concerned in the late mail robbery has been caught near Redding. No particulars.

Three Chinamen stole a horse apiece from one of their countrymen last week near Baker City, and two of the thieves succeeded in getting away with their chargers, while the third, who had drawn a lame plug, was caught and jailed.

The Jacksonville Sentinel of last Saturday says: "Mrs. T. F. Royal, of Portland, Oregon, formerly of this city, has returned from the Atlantic States. She is more delighted with Oregon than ever, and has been paying her numerous old friends here a visit during the week. She will start for Portland Monday. We wish her a happy journey."

On the 10th inst. a little son of William Garrison, who lives in Washington Gulch, some eight miles southwest of Baker City, was riding a pony and had a heavy Mexican spur on one of his feet. Wishing to stop for some purpose the boy dismounted, and at the same time a coil of rope, which was dragging suspended from the saddle, fell to the ground. At this juncture the pony jumped to one side, and in the endeavor to hold it the boy stepped into the rope coil, which was soon firmly drawn around his foot containing the spur. The pony dashed off at a furious rate dragging the helpless boy after him. It is stated that the horse ran four hundred yards over the hard flinty road, and all this distance the boy was hurled along, battering against rocks, roots, and everything that came in the way. His lower jawbone is broken, several of his teeth are knocked out, and his whole body terribly bruised.

The Department of Agriculture has ordered 800 bushels of wheat from France and Chili, embracing all varieties of winter wheat. The cargoes are expected to arrive this month and will be distributed in season for fall sowing.

Put three ounces of carbolic acid in twelve quarts of lime water or whitewash, wash the walls of the poultry house well with this wash and you will repel the lice.

TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 21 1873

TELEGRAPHY IN THE UNITED STATES

In October, 1837 Samuel F B Morse filed his caveat in the Patent Office at Washington In 1840 he obtained his patent. In May 1844, with means quite inadequate, he put in operation, between Washington and Baltimore, the first line for public use in the United States From this feeble beginning came the huge system of telegraphy which to-day throbs in every nook and corner of the Union By way of contrast, we remark that on the first day of July, 1873, the property and franchises owned and controlled by the Western Union Telegraph Company alone was valued at over fifty millions of dollars

The Western Union Company was incorporated in 1856, with a capital stock of $360,000 To-day its capital stock is $41,073,410, of which $30,500,000 is represented by four men—Wm Orton James H Banker, Harrison Durkee and Augustus Schell. From the report of President Orton, just published we collate the following interesting statistics, which may serve to illustrate more forcibly than a detailed history possibly could, the wonderful growth of telegraphy in the United States.

We have here a company owning, [illegible] and controlling 65,757 miles of line, 154,471 miles of wire and 5,740 offices; employing an army of [illegible] persons, expending in a single year, for the construction and the [illegible] of new lines, fully one and a [illegible] millions of dollars, whose gross [illegible] in the same year foot up the [illegible] of $9,333,018 51, of which [illegible] were profits. In the management of this enormous system over 8,000 [illegible] instruments, manipulated by near[illegible] operators and run by 21,777 cups [illegible] and 11,717 cups of local [illegible] are employed. From this report [illegible] the cost of maintenance per [illegible] has gradually increased from [illegible] to $20 37 in 1873. This in[illegible] about $6 per mile is quite un[illegible] Mr. Orton touches very [illegible] on the subject, remarking, simply, [illegible] of it is of an exceptional [illegible] storms have prevailed, [illegible] in January and March, caus[illegible] to the lines and necessitating for repairs." In this [illegible] Mr. Orton forgets to mention [illegible] of wet while for repair has [illegible], the appliances greatly [illegible] facilities for rapid and [illegible] vastly augmented. [illegible] in expenditure [illegible] of Credit [illegible] the only item in the [illegible] of [illegible] genius. [illegible] and profit during the [illegible] the consolidation [illegible] Company, [illegible] for these [illegible] $90,312,618 81. [illegible] have been [illegible] the capital stock has [illegible] $7,000,000, and [illegible] representing in [illegible] $50,000,000. In [illegible] of business has [illegible] 6,000,000 mes[illegible] 14,000,000 in 1873. [illegible] ending June 30th, [illegible] we begin [illegible] insight into the [illegible] monopoly:—"the [illegible] upon [illegible] the average [illegible] 42 cents, and the av[illegible] 19 cents." But [illegible] to draw the veil of si[illegible] portions of this [illegible] inquiry.

[illegible] that "no [illegible] of equal importance is so [illegible] as that of the [illegible] have added that [illegible] were so sensitive to [illegible] of choking off all com[illegible] the management of his [illegible] are prepared to hear, [illegible] has gobbled up the Inter[illegible] Telegraph Company—a [illegible] a 50-years grant [illegible] Government to lay [illegible] cables between Cuba and the [illegible] and a 15-years grant for [illegible] the Government of the [illegible] and whose "not profit is [illegible]"—that it has ac[illegible] of the stock of the Pa[illegible] Company, a controlling [illegible] the Western Electric Manufac[illegible], and other and smaller [illegible] Western Union now owns [illegible] Duplex Appara[illegible] States and Canada.

[illegible] his report, Mr. Orton re[illegible] of his Company, and [illegible] that "at the rates now estab[illegible] it is impossible for any competing [illegible] to realize profits" That looks [illegible] it were intended for Mr Cress[illegible] "The time is not distant, [illegible] when the Western Union will [illegible] substantial competitor in [illegible] conduct of a business which, not[illegible] the enormous growth of the [illegible] years, still is in its infancy" [illegible] when that time comes, what will be [illegible] condition of the business community [illegible]? It is not good that any [illegible] should be able to look with such [illegible] to a future in which competi[illegible] in this important business shall be [illegible].

The tyranny of corporations is forcibly illustrated in the case of William A Field an employe of the Reading Railway Company who was nominated by the Republicans of Schuylkill county for the Pennsylvania Assembly In his note declining the nomination Mr Field says "Circumstances over which I have no control compel me to resign as a candidate for the Legislature I am officially [illegible] to do this" Commenting on the occurrence the Schuylkill Republican says

"Mr. Field was a strong man on our ticket and Mr Gowen, President of the Reading corporation, fearing his election wrote a peremptory letter, we are told notifying him [illegible] he must either withdraw from the ticket or leave the employ of the Company The Reading Company will follow up this plan of [illegible], and no Republican will go to the [illegible] if it can help it, simply because [illegible] corporation and monopoly can hope for no favors from Republican legislators, as they are pledged against corrupt legislation, and are such men as will abide by their pledges though the heavens fall"

Railway companies do not interfere in local politics nor coerce their employes nor corrupt the sources of power Not at all!

"Blessed are the peacemakers" Here is Hon O C French Chairman of the Mississippi Republican State Committee, who suspecting that Governor Powers had issued his proclamation postponing the general election in the interest of Alcorn shrewdly considers a plan for healing the dissensions in the party Be it understood that Ames whose Senatorial term expires in 1875 would prolong his term for another seven years, while Alcorn, whose Senatorial term expires in 1877 has a like aspiration Mr French now proposes to the Chairman of the opposition committee that before arranging the terms of the proposed joint discussion between the Senators both tender their resignations as United States Senators, to take effect upon the inauguration of either as Governor Mr Alcorn, who has three years in the Senate before him fails to see the force of the suggestion and the Alcorn chairman has declined what he regards as a very remarkable proposition

The Boston Aldermen take Gov Washburn's view of the stringent Massachusetts liquor law that the execution of its penalties would not be supported by public sentiment, and therefore it should not be enforced A society of Prohibitionists petitioned the Board to enforce the law The petition was referred to a committee, and the committee reported that it was the duty of the police to enforce impartially all laws which come within their purview, that if in executing this law they show less energy than is manifested in the enforcement of other criminal laws, it is because the liquor law, in its present form is obnoxious to the community The committee were of the opinion that the Board of Aldermen need take no action on the petitions Their report was adopted We must remark that this is a decidedly primitive method of nullifying unpopular laws

Now that the Chase heirs have received their quietus, and the expectant descendants of Anneke Jans have shed their last tear over the illusive real estate of that worthy lady, one would suppose that fortune seeking in this line would be checked for a little time Not so, however In Jersey City, "one hundred heirs of the Sir Francis Drake estate met Thursday, October 9th and paid their annual dues"

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT]

Work will soon be suspended on the Capitol building for the winter, and men are now engaged in roofing the walls for the purpose of protecting them from the rain. It is expected that at an early day next spring work will be resumed, and as large a force of men as possible put on

There has been during the last few days considerable wheat sold in this city at 90 cents per bushel. Many had supposed that all the surplus crop had been sold before the week of the Fair, but that is a mistake Oats yesterday sold for 35 cents per bushel hay for $10 per ton

Since the Fair the farmers have commenced active operations in fall plowing preparatory for fall sowing, and the probabilities are that there will be a large acreage oven for this State sown this fall. Although the late heavy rains ruined the State Fair, it was of immense benefit to the farming community, calling to mind that old maxim "that it is an ill wind that blows nobody good"

The Secretary of the State Agricultural Society informs me that the following gold and silver medals had been awarded, but the Executive Committee had not thoroughly examined the books yet and the list is not complete

The city of Salem has assumed its usual quiet routine and steady habits All the shows and even the circus have folded their tents and gone, whither the deponent knoweth not and probably we will not see anything more of them until the next annual Fair That class of institutions did not reap a rich harvest this year at the Fair in fact it was almost disastrous in several cases and left more money than they took away 47

EUGENE CITY ITEMS

Two warehouses at Junction fell last week owing to overloading with grain

Dodge, agent for the Parisian Circus was married at the St Charles Hotel yesterday

Deer are abundant in the hills a few miles from Eugene Several parties went out during the last week and all came back well supplied with game

One thousand dollars is needed to complete the roof on the State University A meeting was held last Thursday and also Saturday evening, to devise means of raising this sum It is not doubted the amount necessary will be raised this week.

Judge Prim has rendered his opinion on the demurrers to the complaints in the railroad cases which were argued before him here last spring He sustained the demurrer holding that the contract on which these cases are founded is void as being against public policy

At the Tichborne trial September 18th Dr Kenealy made an application on the part of the claimant that he might be allowed to attend pigeon shooting matches, though he had been forbidden to hold public meetings. The Court peremptorily refused permission

LETTER FROM OLYMPIA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

OLYMPIA, W T, Oct 19 1873

On Friday and Saturday evenings the Fulford Troupe comprising Mr Fulford and wife, Misses Minnie and Lucy Pixley and Messrs Cain Clinton White Roos and Schwabacher gave entertainments in Columbia Hall to but moderately sized houses which was owing principally to the dull times, and the large number of entertainments given recently for church and other purposes The performance was, as usual good and Mr Fulford deserves the thanks of the community for his endeavors to cater to their amusement

ACCIDENT

This morning about 11 o'clock a band of about thirty head of cattle was in the act of crossing the bridge leading from Swantown to Olympia when one of the supports gave way causing a break of about thirty feet through which fourteen of the herd found their way to the mud flats very quickly two being killed in their descent, by the falling timbers The remaining twelve were extricated with much difficulty, and the bridge repaired sufficiently for passenger travel It will probably be a week before teams can cross, in the meantime having to travel "round the block a distance of about ten miles The herd belonged to Mr S Coulter and the probable value of those killed, about $30 each which the county will likely be called on to make good

CITY.

Lively Contest.—According to the city charter of East Portland, the regular election of municipal officers—with the exception of Recorder and Clerk and City Assessor—came off last evening at the regular Board of Trustees. The charter provides that the Board of Trustees shall elect on the 20th of October a City Attorney, Marshal, Surveyor and Street Commissioner, who are to serve for one year from the 1st of November the time required for them to qualify and enter upon the respective duties of their offices. Accordingly, the Board proceeded to such annual election. The members acted as a unit in the election of all the officers, except the City Marshal and Street Commissioner. There appeared to exist, in regard to this contest, an honest difference of opinion among the members of the Board as to the most suitable and favored person. The names of J. W. Clayton (the present Marshal) and Mr. Proudfit were proposed as candidates for the honor and emolument of carrying the "star." There were six votes in the Board, which number stood equally divided between the rival candidates. For five successive ballots the contest was waged, neither side surrendering up its favorite. At length an armistice was declared, and the election was postponed until the next meeting. For the office of Street Commissioner the names of N. Clinton (present incumbent) and C. Crawford were proposed. The fight assumed the same aspect as the one for Marshalship—3 and 3. Finding neither side would capitulate, the contest was deferred for two weeks. In the meantime the respective friends of the candidates will labor unremittingly to proselyte from the opposite rank. Although the contest was a little spirited last evening, the best of feeling characterized that portion of the proceedings.

An Artist "Print."—We observe in the last number of Harper's Weekly an illustration of the scene where the steamship Costa Rica ran on a sunken rock just inside the Golden Gate on the evening of September 17th. The scene is from a pencil sketch made by Mr. Thaddeus Welch. This young man is well known in Portland, especially among the printing fraternity, of which craft he is an esteemed and competent member. For the last five years, Mr. Welch has resided in San Francisco, quietly pursuing his trade—that of job printer—and devoted all his leisure moments to drawing and painting, for which he not only has a great passion, but also considerable taste and ability. Since his residence there, he has painted two meritorious sketches: "The Middle Block House," and "Scene at the Upper Cascades," both of which were sent to this city. The latter painting was raffled off some time ago, and the former is still on exhibition.

Turned On.—About the center of the vacant block directly opposite the Court House, one of the water pipes [illegible] to the surface of the ground. The end of the hydrant is arranged so that a hose can readily be attached to irrigate the grass and shrubbery during the heat and drought of the summer months. This hydrant is securely encased in a strong wooden box, which is [illegible] in the earth. The lid of the box is fastened down with a lock. Some time yesterday a mischievous boy of the [illegible] hoodlum, procured himself of a key with which he unlocked the box and turned on the water. Not until the hydrant had been running a number of hours, and the whole [illegible] four rods in all directions was completely flooded, was the mischief discovered. The Water Collector was informed of the fact and he hastened to stop the leakage and to lock the box. He is looking for that youthful culprit.

Debating Society.—The East Portland Debating Society is in a prosperous condition, and has an enrolled membership of about eighty persons. Both old men and young attend the meetings of the Society, participate in the discussions which are held, and manifest a lively interest. Meetings are held in the Council Chamber every Friday evening. The question for discussion at the next regular meeting will be, "[illegible] That professional gamblers of this country are a greater scourge than robbers, murderers, and thieves." An election of officers was held a few weeks ago with the following result: President, F. R. [illegible]; Secretary, Claude Thayer; Sergeant-at-Arms, J. W. Clayton. The presence of a goodly number of ladies at the [illegible] lends additional [illegible] the [illegible] more dignified, and contributes much toward the maintenance of strict decorum.

Nearly a Fire.—A narrow escape from a destructive fire occurred yesterday morning, at the residence of Mr. Durkheimer, which is situated in the upper portion of the city. Mrs. Durkheimer placed a vessel on the stove which contained a considerable quantity of grease. She left the kitchen for a few minutes, and during her absence the inflammable article caught on fire and was scattered in all directions about the apartment. The burning grease set fire to the paper on the walls, and the prospect for the moment looked brilliant for a conflagration. An alarm was given and several neighbors came to the rescue. Promptness and presence of mind triumphed over the element, and it was extinguished, with but little loss. Housewives and servants ought to know that fire and grease are dangerous companions when left together alone.

Passengers Coming.—The steamer Ajax sailed from San Francisco for this port last Saturday. Through some omission, the list was not telegraphed at once as is usually the case. The following passengers are on board: Mrs. Whiting and daughter, G. W. Collard and wife, C. H. Whitney and wife, G. L. Foster and wife, Miss E. B. Stroud, G. E. Royal and wife, C. C. Barrett, P. Dugan and family, A. Noltner, Jose S. [illegible], Mrs. M. Sinclair and daughter, O. C. Ford and family, Max Vogt, J. Dwyer and family, J. Evans, A. Wolf, Frank Fabre, L. P. Smith, E. Lurch, F. G. Drake, C. A. McGuire, Rev. Dr. Nesbit, J. C. McGuire, F. [illegible], G. W. Hume, G. Frankenthal, H. Thanhauser, E. Kinsterman, G. W. Parker, M. H. Scott, T. R. Brown, A. T. Green, J. Woehmann, Mrs. Black, L. L. Talcott and family.

Reported Killed.—Yesterday the rumor was currently reported on the streets that Mr. Samuel Winans, who was conductor for over a year on the Oregon & California Railroad, and subsequently contractor on the N. P. R. R., was killed a few days ago somewhere in California. No particulars are given further than that he was engaged at work about a pile-driver, when the guides for the hammer fell over, striking and killing him almost instantly. Mr. Winans left here some time ago for California, taking with him his young and handsome wife. Since then, we learn that he has been following the business of a contractor. Mr. Winans was well known here and highly esteemed. Sincerely we hope that the rumor is a fabrication.

Heavy Transaction.—We hear that a heavy transaction in the sale of real estate, situated somewhere in the southern portion of the city was under negotiation between certain parties last Saturday. The purchase price, we learn, was in the vicinity of $40,000. At present we are unable to state what was the result of the pending negotiations, who the contracting parties are, or what property was to change hands. If such a transaction took place, the real estate records of the county will soon furnish all particulars. It has been some time since a transfer of such magnitude has agitated the sluggish waters of the real estate market.

Waiting for Material.—All the woodwork for the new church edifice, which has been erected on the Cornell road about ten miles northwest of this city by the German members of the Presbyterian denomination of Bethany, under the pastoral charge of Rev. H. Gaus, has been completed. Nothing but the interior of the building remains unfinished. Plastering material has been difficult to obtain, and thus delays have been incurred. It is hoped in a few weeks, that the required articles, lime, etc., will be procured and the work pushed forward to an early completion.

Examining Cisterns.—Chief Engineer Bruen was authorized and directed, at the last meeting of the Council, by a resolution, to examine all the fire cisterns of the city to ascertain the general condition of the cisterns; the quantity of water in each, etc., and report the result of his investigations to the Council. Yesterday he was engaged in [illegible] personally the cisterns, [illegible] in good condition.

A Bold Robbery.—Last Friday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, a man named James Brown entered the dwelling house of a Mr. Moore, in East Portland, during the absence of the family. After effecting an entrance, the thief went through the premises in a very thorough manner. He entered without scruple closet, drawers and trunks. As the fruits of his search, he rifled the house of a considerable quantity of silver plated ware, a gold chain, a silver watch, about $40 in coin, and a silver napkin ring, the total aggregating $100. The gentlemanly burglar then cleared out, carrying away his booty. Brown came directly over to this city and attempted to dispose of the stolen articles to a pawnbroker. The police were apprised of the theft and began to ferret out the matter. Their surveillance resulted in the arrest of Brown last evening. The Grand Jury will more than likely have a little business with Mr. Brown before he is many days older.

Ferry Slip.—During last week a number of men were engaged at work in making some repairs to the ferry slip at the foot of L street, on the east side of the river. Several tons of rocks are piled up on the "mudsills" that constitute the foundations for the bents which support the plank roadway. This is to counteract the buoyancy of the timbers and to prevent the whole structure from rising with the water during high stages. The planks are securely spiked down to the timbers, and the rock will hold everything in its present position.

Bound Here.—The British ship Lord of the Isles, from Adelaide, arrived off San Francisco on the 12th inst., and received orders to proceed directly to this port to load with grain. The British ship Louisa Fletcher, now on the way hither, reports that the English bark Santa Rosa sailed from Callao on the 10th of September bound for Portland to await orders. The British ship Eskdale, Capt. Jenkinson, cleared from San Francisco on the 15th inst., bound for Portland under charter to Rodgers, Meyer & Co., to carry a load of wheat to Europe.

In San Francisco.—Mr. W. S. Caldwell received a telegram yesterday from San Francisco which stated that the hose carriage for one of the companies here had been shipped on the Ajax, which sailed last Saturday. There is no intimation in the dispatch that the two new fire engines had arrived in San Francisco, but there can be no doubt that both are there now, as the hose carriages and steamers were shipped at the same time. We can confidently expect these engines to arrive on the John L. Stephens, which will sail next Saturday.

Refuse to Adopt.—We learn that the School Directors of District No. 1, after consulting legal counsel, have determined not to adopt, for the use of the Public Schools, the Pacific Coast Series of Readers. They propose to test the validity of the new law which requires them to adopt and introduce into the Public Schools such series of text books.

Patent Secured.—Accounts were given, some months ago, of a patent "Porter's Box" which was invented by the well known clothier merchant, Isaac Barman. He applied several months ago for a patent. We learn that Mr. Barman was awarded a patent, a few weeks since, by the Department at Washington.

New Roof.—A number of carpenters began yesterday to tear off the old roof of the Cosmopolitan Hotel, and to put on a new one. The old roof has been on for a long time having become moss-coated, thus affording a good opportunity for water to pass through and for fire to ignite and destroy.

Under Charge.—Lieut. Shelton, of the First Cavalry, with an escort in charge of prisoners from Fort Lapwai, left Walla Walla last Sunday morning en route for Portland in an extra conveyance furnished by the N. W. Stage Co. He will probably arrive here this evening on the Dalles boat.

Work Begun.—Several carpenters began work yesterday morning in laying new side walk around the property belonging to the estate of the late Wm. Cree. Two hundred feet will be laid along Stark street and twenty-five feet along Front and First for the width of the property.

Goes Down.—The bark Spirit of the Dawn, having nearly finished her cargo of grain for Europe, was towed down the river yesterday afternoon. The Romeo will probably go down to-day, with a partial load of grain; also the brig Torpedo laden with lumber for San Francisco.

Case Deferred.—In the Circuit Court, the case of State vs D. B. Franklin, indicted for illegal voting, was to have come up yesterday for trial. However, the case was deferred until to-day. There are several other cases of illegal voting, which will probably come up in a few days.

Postoffice Moved.—Mr. Smith, who was recently appointed Postmaster of East Portland, has entered upon the grave duties and responsibilities of that position. The office has been moved from Rafferty's drug store, on J street, to the corner of Fourth and I streets.

Loading.—Both the E. N. Cooke and Dixie Thompson were loading with wheat at the O. S. N. Co.'s new wharf yesterday. This grain will be taken down the river and placed on board some of the vessels which are loading for Europe.

No Court.—His Honor, Judge Deady went up to Yamhill county yesterday on a brief visit. As a matter of course there was no Circuit Court. Should he return in time, the U. S. District Court will convene this morning.

Still Another Patient.—Sheriff Scott, of Marion county, came down last evening, having in charge an insane man. He took his unfortunate charge to the Asylum at once.

Adjourned.—The grand jury, which has been in session during last week, adjourned yesterday until Wednesday. To-morrow that body will resume its labors.

By whom Owned.—The tug Fearless, which was wrecked on the Coos Bay bar about two weeks ago, was owned by A. M. Simpson, the well-known ship-builder.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL.

At present Portland is left without any amusement, our Puget Sound friends having monopolized all the companies. The Rosedale Troupe are now playing along the Sound, Vivian and his company will also be over there in a few days, besides Profs. J. D. White and C. B. Plummer, who are likewise over there and advertised to give elocutionary entertainments.

An Olympia exchange of last Friday says: The Rosedale Theatrical Troupe arrived from Portland last evening. They have been playing to full houses in the Willamette Valley, especially at the Fair. This company possesses considerable local interest, as the Pixley Sisters lived in Olympia for some time, attending school, and have many acquaintances here among the younger members of the community. They will perform to-night, and to-morrow night leave for Seattle, and from there visit Victoria.

PERSONAL.

Hon. J. S. Smith is at San Diego, Cal., where he expects to regain his usual health.

Judge McFadden, Delegate to Congress from Washington Territory, is in the city, destined to Washington.

Mr. Tyler Woodward, of this city, is on Hood River, Wasco county. He is expected to return in a few days.

At Olympia.

Mr. OLIVER DENNIE, the Photographic Artist, has leased the Gallery at Olympia for several weeks and will furnish the citizens at that place with Pictures of a superior style.

Throat Affections and Hoarseness.—All suffering from Irritation of the Throat and Hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches."

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The Board of Trustees met last evening at 7 o'clock. President Van Cleave in the chair.

Members present—Messrs. Buckman, Hoyt, Pape, Severson, Stephens and Van Cleave.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

CLAIMS.

The following claim was audited and ordered paid: J. W. Clayton, $4 50 and $3 00, total $7 50.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance to provide for the location and protection of ornamental shade trees was read first and second time and laid over under the rules.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Van Cleave offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Auditor be and he is hereby ordered and directed to issue warrants for the collection of all delinquent street assessments against each lot or part of lot liable for improvements on Second street, and intersections of said street with streets running at right angles therewith from the north side of J street to the north side of B street, in accordance with the amount of assessments ascertained and declared upon said lots and parts of lots by Ordinance No. 29, passed March 9, 1871.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Mr. Severson moved that the Board proceed to the election of officers as provided by the charter.

It was moved and carried that the Board proceed first to the election of the City Attorney.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Hoyt and Severson as tellers.

Mr. Severson placed in nomination the name of W. W. Thayer (the present incumbent).

Mr. Thayer received the unanimous vote of the Board and was declared elected.

Mr. Hoyt moved that the Board proceed next to the election of a City Marshal.

Several candidates were placed in nomination.

After balloting for some time without deciding upon any one candidate, Mr. Hoyt moved that the election of a City Marshal be postponed for two weeks. Motion prevailed.

Mr. Severson moved that the Board now proceed to the election of a City Surveyor.

The name of O. B. Johnson was placed in nomination (the present Surveyor).

Mr. Johnson received the unanimous vote of the Board and was declared the choice of that body.

Mr. Buckman moved that the Board next proceed to the election of the Street Commissioner.

The names of C. Crawford and Nicholas Clinton were placed in nomination.

The Board, after balloting for some time without the election of either candidate, postponed the election of a Street Commissioner until the next regular meeting of the Board.

On motion the Board adjourned.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

We hope to report the third and deciding game between the married and single elevens of the Cricket Club in next Monday's issue.

St. George's Cricket Club of New York defeated the Germantown Club at Hoboken, New Jersey, on the 4th inst., 114 to 43, in one inning.

The races next Friday and Saturday, on Multnomah Park, are attracting considerable attention among lovers of sports on the turf. A series of interesting contests are promised.

The Philadelphia Base Ball Club was one ahead in the Eastern championship race on the 1st inst., but on the 4th they fell behind, and now the Boston Club bids fair to hold the whip pennant for another year. They stand first, the Philadelphia next, Baltimore third—the Athletic, Mutual and Atlantic standing in the order named.

There is no new feature in the College-Pioneer final game to announce. Capt. Buchtel, of the Pioneers, says he is willing to play that game at any time and place outside of the private grounds of the College Club. Let us have less paper talk in the matter, and more business. We want to see the College boys do the right thing, and that game must be played if the Salem club wish to sustain their high reputation for fair and gentlemanly play. No more quibbling, boys, but set the time, and play that much-talked of final and deciding game as agreed upon.

If you are contemplating a purchase of clothing bear in mind one thing, and that is, to buy a good article and at the same time to pay a low price for it. BECK & WALDMAN, the popular clothiers, sell the best, charge a low price and always keep a large stock. Their stock of youth's clothing is not to be excelled anywhere. Parents should remember this.

Emil, Lowenstein & Co., recently burned out by the great fire, have removed their Stock of Carpets, Curtains, Coverings, etc. to No. 87 FRONT STREET, between Washington and Alder, where they can be found, selling off the entire Stock AT COST, in order to start soon in new quarters with an Entire New Stock. All persons indebted to them are requested to call at their temporary place of business and settle up.

No other medicine ever attained such an unprecedented sale as HELMBOLD'S BUCHU. Its name and fame are known everywhere; and it deserves its great reputation, for it has undoubted merit. It is warranted to cure all diseases of the kidneys and the urinary organs. Beware of counterfeits. Genuine has private proprietary stamp of H. T. Helmbold on each bottle.

Fevers seldom make an attack without warning, and may often be thrown off by soaking the feet in warm water, wrapping up warm in bed, and taking two or three of Parson's Purgative Pills.

A Missionary, just returned, says he regards Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, as beyond all price, and efficacious beyond any other medicine. It is adapted to a great variety of special cases, and is the best pain curer in the world.

A Disabling Disease.

No disease which does not confine a man to his bed so completely unfits him for business as dyspepsia. When the stomach is foul, the brain is always muddy and confused, and as the cares and anxieties of life are a sufficient burden for the organ of thought to bear, without being tormented by the miseries born of indigestion, it is highly desirable for the brain's sake, as well as for the sake of every other portion of the system, that the disordered stomach should be restored with the utmost dispatch to a healthy, vigorous condition. This object can always be accomplished by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the purest and best of vegetable specifics, which evacuates the morbid humors through the bowels, rouses and tones the torpid stomach and regulates the liver, imparts firmness to the nerves and clears the sensorium of its mental cobwebs. Persons subject to attacks of indigestion, bilious headache, irregularity of the bowels, sickness at the stomach, or "the blues," should take the Bitters once or twice a day throughout the present season.

A Pensylvania daily, just at hand, has a head that looks as if it was put on by a broom, after being dipped in a tar barrel.

The masonry work on the cistern at the intersection of Lownsdale and Morrison streets will be completed this week—no rain to prevent.

TO DIRECTORS OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The Pacific Coast Series of Readers (including Hopkin's Manual of American Ideas) and Speller, are announced by the State Board of Education, as the authorized books in these branches. They are in the hands of dealers, for the next three months at a discount of 33⅓ per cent. for introduction.

The full list of authorized text books for the next four years is now made out. The instructions of the State Board are to allow until March 1, 1874, for completed introduction. All districts failing at that time to report the authorized list as the text books in use in their schools will be excluded from share in the apportionment of County Fund for 1874.

In the case of Districts in which no school session is held prior to March 1st, a vote of the Directors duly entered and signifying the purpose of complying with the law as soon as school begins, will be accepted.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Allen & Lewis announce the early sailing of the bark Jane A. Falkinburg. Shippers should bear this fact in mind.

Beck & Waldman have issued a new announcement, which should be read by every one. You will find it on the third page.

Our readers are referred to Charley Martin's new card in another column. If advertising and selling at low prices won't win, then he will "give up the ship."

The new stores of Jos. Kohn & Co. and Walter Bros. are the center of attraction. No wonder. They keep a big and varied stock of goods and accommodating clerks, who are always ready to wait upon customers.

The place of Chas. Holder has been taken possession of by W. A. Hart, who will fill it up with the very best brands of cigars and tobacco. A full line of fine confectioneries always on hand. Give him a call. Now, don't forget.

The variety of Foreign and Domestic Fruits to be seen at W. ASCHENHEIM'S, 120 First Street, is immense for this time of the year. Go and see it.

Don't go home to-night without having previously made arrangements with John O'Neil & Co. to do up a fall suit in their own peculiar style, which is quite popular, as the elegant suits daily seen on the streets from this house will attest. Mr. Scharf, of the firm, has been to San Francisco. That is sufficient. Be sure to call and select from the latest arrivals, which are new and novel. The place is 93 First street.

FRENCH WITH A MASTER

Aimer aimer c'est a vivre
[To love to love this it is to love.]

Teach you French? I will, my dear!
Sit and con your lesson here
What did Adam say to Eve?
Aimer, aimer, c'est a vivre.

Don't pronounce the last word long
Make it short to suit the song
Rhyme it to your flowing sleeve
Aimer, aimer c'est a vivre

Sleeve, I said, but what's the harm
If I really meant your arm?
Mine shall twine it, (by your leave)
Aimer, aimer, c'est a vivre.

Learning French is full of slips.
Do as I do with the lips.
Here's the right way, you perceive
Aimer, aimer, c'est a vivre.

French is always spoken best
Breathing deeply from the chest
Darling does your bosom heave?
Aimer, aimer, c'est a vivre

Now, my dainty little sprite
Have I taught your lesson right?
Then what pay shall I receive?
Aimer, aimer, c'est a vivre.

Will you think me over bold
If I linger to be told
Whether you yourself believe
Aimer, aimer, c'est a vivre.

Pretty pupil when you say
All this French to me to-day,
Do you mean it, or deceive?
Aimer, aimer, c'est a vivre.

Tell me, may I understand
When I press your little hand
That our hearts together cleave?
Aimer, aimer, c'est a vivre

[illegible] you, in your cheeks, roses room
[illegible] buds to bloom?
[illegible] weave?
[illegible] c'est a vivre.

Oh, if I [illegible] too much,
[illegible] French by [illegible] of touch
Grant me pardon and reprieve
Aimer, aimer, c'est a vivre.

[illegible] you cannot go!
Let me sit and hold you so!
Adam did the same to Eve!
Aimer, aimer, c'est a vivre.

[illegible]EAU!

[illegible] SHOW OF FELINES IN THE CRYSTAL PALACE, LONDON—A REMARKABLE DISPLAY.

[illegible] years ago, the novel an[illegible] a "National Cat Show" brought [illegible] to the Crystal Palace they [illegible] a sight as may be [illegible] till Tuesday next. Either [illegible] had not that awoke to the [illegible] true value of the cat, or per[illegible] are subject to periods of [illegible] it may, but 62 in all could [illegible] the 40,000 eyes that [illegible] Miserable animals too, [illegible] pariahs of the gutter and [illegible] whom no well-bred [illegible] to study, and [illegible] would have thought [illegible] But now-a-days Mr. Wil[illegible] of the Natural History [illegible] has changed all that. [illegible] cats of every color, size and [illegible] divided into 53 classes, [illegible] distributed 144 prizes, from [illegible] silver medal offered by [illegible] the best Persian or Angora [illegible] which is to be mated [illegible] pair of "long-haired kittens [illegible] old." Of these 53 classes [illegible] show, including [illegible] the workingman's cat, [illegible] which has seven entries, [illegible] of two shillings is [illegible] be for sale, and [illegible] A prize of two [illegible] by Miss Ethel Hoey, [illegible] a half-bred Maltese [illegible] by tom cat. Unfortun[illegible] merit [illegible] and for the present [illegible] not unwept, [illegible] honored. [illegible] by the Egyptian [illegible] who held the cat a [illegible] the sage of these famous [illegible] the case of families, each [illegible] fitted up [illegible] whereon are [illegible] born of food and [illegible] cats of every age, of [illegible] of every country and [illegible] by no means the [illegible] sex at all. From [illegible] all around the little [illegible] whose shouts of [illegible] where the eye of the [illegible] favor. This office, we [illegible] for it is [illegible] "which is the [illegible] all are fair." It is a task, how[illegible] have well been put in [illegible] of M[illegible] Harrison [illegible] and P. H. Jones. [illegible] conceive that any species [illegible] over[illegible] has, indeed, been [illegible] of a class [illegible] hybrid between wild and do[illegible]," and the fact that this [illegible] a single entry, [illegible] good proof that [illegible] Those who have [illegible] cat only in the light of a [illegible] by a beneficent Provi[illegible] of mice, and the amuse[illegible] schoolboys and bull ter[illegible] at the really mag[illegible] may be seen here. Fat, [illegible] of them, with fur as sleek [illegible] as any fine lady's hair [illegible] they are, with necklets and [illegible] colors and devices, and they [illegible] ice, as if they knew and [illegible] of the fact. [illegible] first upon the list, and surely first [illegible] it, comes a short-haired tortoise[illegible] He is not only the sole represen[illegible] so far as is known, with [illegible] and ends He must by [illegible] well nigh surfeited with the in[illegible] for this will be the fifth show [illegible] yet no brother has come [illegible] His owner, then, may be [illegible] him as high as £20. Pass[illegible] of [illegible] and colors, tor[illegible] blue and silver tabby, we [illegible] in cages 91, 92, [illegible] are "short-haired, red tabby she [illegible] is the first [illegible] that any such [illegible] Hitherto they had al[illegible] as rare as tortoise shell [illegible] this [illegible] was estab[illegible] to take away its reproach by [illegible] Truth to tell, though [illegible] of surpassing value, these red [illegible] are not very beautiful to look upon [illegible] 118 is what is, perhaps the curi[illegible] of the collection It belongs to J [illegible] or at all events ought [illegible] to the name Mimic, and comes from [illegible] It is of a black fawn color with black [illegible] a round head, somewhat like the [illegible] of a pug. There is, we believe, a royal [illegible] in Siam, prohibiting the export of any [illegible] of this breed, which may account for the [illegible] of two very common and plebian [illegible] kittens within the royal cage Then [illegible] a little, black, English cat before which [illegible] would not be inclined to linger had we not [illegible] told that it could sit up on its hind legs [illegible] like a dog. In cage 142, may be seen [illegible] sight, where Sug a little kitten of [illegible] old, keeps watch and ward over [illegible] a bull terrier pup, who, though the elder [illegible] looks infinitely more frightened [illegible] than its present guardian but [illegible] we fear, future foe Among the long[illegible] tribe, Mr Hall's Angora Selim occu[illegible]pying cage 152, must be mentioned as the winner of former prizes at the Palace, at Dover at [illegible], and at other places while but one [illegible] of purrs a worthy rival in a Chinchilla and white Angora belonging to Miss [illegible] Thompson On the west side of the enclosure and above the little box whence catalogues [illegible] other useful bits of information are dis[illegible] the visitor will probably be attracted by a large photograph of a black cat—a real black cat, without a single spot of white—and [illegible] 163 the original is to be found. An [illegible] belonging to Mr Lloyd of the Aquarium [illegible] is a cat with a history a traveled cat who [illegible] seen and cities and doubtless known [illegible] Born in Paris, in 1860 it crossed [illegible] in the following year, started for [illegible] the year after when it remained till [illegible] came over to Norwood, which [illegible] abiding place ever since Paris, [illegible] London—what may not a cat [illegible] have seen in those cities within [illegible] time to say nothing of Norwood? [illegible] we do not pretend to enumerate all the [illegible] that are contained in these 252 [illegible] a half-bred Persian of a [illegible] color, be[illegible]longing to [illegible] and white tom, belonging to the cellarmen of the Palace, the possessor of an undeniable pair of white whiskers by a white she-cat, with one eye bright yellow and the other almost an Eton blue, we come at last to Class 51 wherein are congregated the 'cats of no sex' belonging to workingmen only And these cats do the greatest credit to the care and good keeping of the workingmen They at least can have no inducement to strike whatever their masters may do, for, however high wages may go, it is simply an impossibility that they should be in better case. In this class weight alone confers the meed of merit and the prize is gained by the inhabitants of cage 248 who weighed 16lb 11oz, and belongs to T Durst of South Lambeth Had it not however, been for an error in the time for entry, Mr Durst would have had to rest content with second honors for at the northern end of the enclosure stands in an unnumbered cage a huge brown tabby weighing 19lb This is very far above the ordinary run of weights though we believe there was exhibited in the Crystal Palace not long ago a cat which was said to draw the unprecedented weight of 24lb —London Times Sept 30th

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

MONDAY EVENING October 20 1873.

Gold in New York to-day 108¾

Portland Legal Tender rates 90½ buying 91¼ selling

Gold bars are quotable at 725@750 fine

Exchange on San Francisco ¾ of 1 ⅌ cent. discount.

Liverpool Wheat 12s 6d@12s 6d club 12s 9d@13s

The price of gold is again down to 108¾. Exchange has also declined to the specie importing point and coin is already coming from London to New York in large quantities. The telegraph also informs us that the general state of affairs in New York seems tending to a greater ease, and a return to the old usual order of things No doubt the assurance given by the President that the financial policy of the country should be made a prominent feature of the administration in the future has contributed much toward the better turn which things seem to be taking It is reported that it has been determined to earnestly advise Congress to make all necessary provision to return to specie payments The effect upon the money market of such an avowed policy, is to make banks and operators very conservative If the apprehension that specie payments will be enforced is generally entertained prudent bankers will have no other course but to prepare for it. It is not presumable therefore under the severe lessons that have been taught the money manipulators during the past six weeks, that there will be any expansion in the other six weeks to elapse before the meeting of Congress and the adoption of some decided policy On the other hand the banks will avoid the policy of so contracting, as to force failure upon the trading public who have heretofore fortunately escaped in the late storm.

An exchange regards the banks as institutions of mutual credit in respect of the public, and says

The last report of the National Banks shows that they had lent to the public $906,071 000, and the public had lent the banks $616,818,000 as deposits, and $338,168,000 for which the public held the banks [illegible] to pay as circulating notes. The public owe the banks $906,071,000 on notes due on an average of forty five days. The banks owe the public $954,981,000 due on demand. Of the deposits that the banks owe a large proportion if not all is intended for the payment of notes as they mature at banks. If the banks were to stop discounting and the public could find the money all the bank loans would be paid up in forty five days and the institution would be liquidated. If they push contraction to a certain point, the public will draw out their deposits and a large portion of the notes remain unpaid The [illegible] of them is a loss of confidence the banks are ruined. The banks are very safe then to pursue such a course as will preserve and strengthen confidence while checking speculation and getting in loans not strictly commercial. Hence the course of affairs in the next ninety days will, in all probability, be highly conservative.

[illegible]

The foreign commerce of the port of New York for the week ending Oct. 4th was as follows General merchandise imports, including dry goods, $7 704,447 produce exports, $[illegible]41, and specie exports, $671,680 The total merchandise imports since Jan. 1st are $315,972,123 against $343,897,812 last year and $308,819,[illegible] in 1871. The total exports of produce since Jan 1st are $215,163,298, against $166,640,365 last year and $172,689 608 in 1871. The total exports of specie since Jan. 1st are $41,523 011 against $59,075,264 last year and $60,702,111 in 1871

The total [illegible] arrivals at the port of San Francisco for the first nine months of the year were 2,663 vessels of 978,000 tons against 2,709 vessels of 887,248 tons for the corresponding period in 1872. The clearances for the same time were 717 vessels of 535,680 tons, against [illegible] vessels of 515,267 tons last year

The treasure exports from San Francisco exclusive of shipments through United States Mail for the past nine months aggregate $17,830,423, Of this amount, $10,289,161 went to New York, $634 205 to England, $4,180,385 to China, $2,046,037 to Japan, $341,736 to Central America. $15,000 to Mexico, $307 004 to Peru, and $5,000 to Honolulu

Produce Market.

WHEAT—We note a sale of 5,000 bushels at $1 85 ⅌ cental but importers still give us $1 80 as the current quotation for common lots. The San Francisco market, where considerable of our surplus is now destined, is unchanged. Trade here seems quiet to-day

FLOUR—The condition of the trade in this city is noted as dull but the quotations given are unchanged. The supply has somewhat increased during the past week. The best brands of extra are quotable at $6 ⅌ bbl outside extra, $5 50 country brands, $5; fine $4 50, superfine, $4

OATS—Our market is in no wise overstocked but rather short in fact, though a brisk demand would be quite likely to attract a full supply in very quick time. We quote at 45c ⅌ bushel as shippers' prices

BARLEY—The shipment of this cereal from San Francisco has grown to be quite a prominent feature of trade in that city, and may influence our market the present season We quote nominally at $1 40@1 45 ⅌ 100 lbs

HAY—The receipts of the past few days have been quite liberal but prices are firm at our last quotation

POTATOES—Large lots are offering at reduced figures and finding difficult sale The local trade creates about the only demand and is supplied at 35@40c ⅌ bushel.

APPLES—The supply is in excess of the demand, and prices as usual depend on the variety and manner of packing We quote at 37½@50c ⅌ box

ONIONS—Market still quiet at 1½@2c ⅌ lb Offers are few

BACON—Nothing new is noticeable in our market to-day quotations standing at 10@11c ⅌ lb, and dull for sides with a full supply, and 9@10½c ⅌ lb for shoulders and 15c for hams both scarce These figures are for ordinary lots fancy brands command 3@4c advance

BUTTER—The receipts to-day of choice lots relieved a want of the local trade and prices are only moderately firm at 30@35c ⅌ lb for best 18@22c for good and 15@18c for common

EGGS—There is a scarcity of fresh receipts in the market, and some lots have been sold to-day at 35@40c ⅌ doz. Quotations are 33@35c

BEEVES—There is still a goodly number of fine beef cattle reaching our market from Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory though scarcely the excess noted earlier in the season Butchers and packers say prices will not materially advance until a much later period in the season We quote 4@5c ⅌ lb on foot

DRESSED HOGS—Demand light at 6@7c ⅌ lb

SHEEP—There is some call at $2 50 ⅌ head for good mutton sheep

HIDES—Shipments are active and prices firm at 14@16c ⅌ lb for dry and 8c for green and green salted

WOOL—We notice some small lots in the market the choice commanding 25 cents ⅌ lb was of very superior texture long staple and clean Common ranges at 19@22c ⅌ lb
